

WE ARE HIRING

You understand the significance of the medium video?
You are fascinated by AI-based methods to uncover what's actually in a video? You want to drive innovation and create something never seen before?

So do we! At Streamdiver, we aim to revolutionize the way people engage with digital content. Whether it's On-Demand, Live Streaming, or events - video holds unlimited possibilities. Our headquarters are in Klagenfurt am Wörthersee (Lakesidepark) and for our award-winning product we are looking for a:

Junior Front-end Developer (f/m/d)

Work at Streamdiver

Our internal Front-end tech-stack is based on Vue.js. Our Developers work independently within our agile Scrum cycle and we love when they experiment with new ideas. It is important to us that our product stays simple and intuitive – even with growing features and size.

You are passionate about Front-ends?

- Knowledge in JavaScript, TypeScript, HTML and CSS
- Experience with JavaScript frameworks like Vue.js, Nuxt.js, React, Next.js etc.
- Experience with Node, Yarn, TailwindCSS, PM2, and Microfrontend Architectures
- Experience with Design-Handoff-Tools (i.e. Zeplin, Sketch) is a plus
- A good sense of usability and user experience
- Fluent English language skills
- Proactive person with good communication skills and team player mindset
- Inquiring and motivated to independently find solutions to problems

Get ready for your next adventure!

- Ambitious start-up that brings innovation to the market
- Highly motivated international team living the Streamdiver spirit
- Freedom to act independently in a key position
- Competitive salary from EUR 44.660 gross upwards (depends on your experience)
- Flexible working hours
- Notebook & smartphone if you like
- Frequent team events and friendly work environment
- Opportunity for professional & personal development
- Modern office next to the beautiful lake Wörthersee
- Location: Klagenfurt, Wien or wherever you are
